The Canon BP-A60 Battery Pack For EOS C300 Mark II battery pack

mounts on your Canon C300 Mark II Camera, providing 90 Watt hours of power. It is a rechargeable lithium ion battery compatible with Canon's Intelligent Battery system. The battery features a removable contact cover that can help keep the contacts clean and help prevent short circuit discharges when the battery is not mounted on the camera.

The battery incorporates a small push button that activates the remaining power indicators on the battery itself, allowing you to quickly determine the approximate power level of the battery, without having to attach it to a camera.
