The RIG-FS5Q is a durable, versatile soft-sided case for carrying your Sony PXW-FS5 camera setups. The case is constructed using ballistic-grade, 1000-denier Cordura nylon with a 1-inch thick interior foam frame. There is a "quick-zip" lid that provides fast, unobstructed access to the main compartment. The 9-inch interior height fits a wide range of camera and DSLR-rig configurations. An extra layer of waterproof Slip-Not material lines the bottom of the case for maximum protection against water when placing the case on the ground. The RIG-FS5Q can be carried using the soft suede-leather handles or comfortable nylon shoulder strap with anti-skid bottom layer.

There is a large zippered pocket on the back of the case, which is ideal for storing cables, filters, and small accessories. A large, Velcro-closure front pocket is designed to carry shotgun mics, spare batteries, and other small accessories.
